

INEQUALITY & POLICY RESEARCH CENTER
Claremont Graduate University

UC RIVERSIDE
School of Public Policy

CLASS & INEQUALITY DAY CONFERENCE

Friday, April 22, 2022 - Claremont Graduate University

- 9:30 am - 10:00 am Conference Check-in, Breakfast
- 10:00 am Introduction to Conference: co-hosts IPRC and UC Riverside School of Public Policy
- 10:15 am - 11:00 am Nick Carnes, Duke University, "Why the Rich Govern: New Data on Working Class Officeholding in the World's Democracies"
- 11:05 am - 11:30 am Dan Thompson, UCLA, "Who Becomes a Member of Congress? Evidence from De-Anonymized Census Data"
- 11:35am - 12 pm Kris-Stella Trump, University of Memphis, "Who Is Rich? (Attempts At) Asking Reasonable Survey Questions about Economic Inequality"
- 12:05 pm - 12:30 pm William Franko, West Virginia University
"Class Politics in the United States: Unions, Policy Attitudes, and Voting"
- 12:30 pm - 1:15 pm Lunch
- 1:15 pm - 2:00 pm Eunji Kim, Vanderbilt University
"The American Mirage: How the Media Upholds Meritocracy in an Age of Inequality"
- 2:05 pm - 2:30 pm Ariel White, MIT, "More Money, More Turnout? Minimum Wage Increases and Voting"
- 2:35 pm - 3 pm
(Zoom) Sean Diament, Swarthmore College
"Rhetorical Construction and Division of the Poor in Congress, 1933-1946"
- 3 pm - 3:15 pm Coffee break
- 3:15 pm - 3:40 pm Elizabeth Mitchell Elder, Princeton University
"The Long-Term Effects of Neighborhood Context on Political Behavior: Re-Evaluating the Impact of the Moving to Opportunity Experiment"
- 3:45 pm - 4:30 pm Amber Wichowsky, Marquette University, Meghan Condon, Loyola Chicago
"The Economic Other: Inequality in the American Political Imagination"

CGU Burkle Building Room 16
Zoom Meeting ID: 856 6747 8170