

14TH ANNUAL

Pat Reif Memorial Lecture

Ivy Nallammah Josiah

You Can't Beat a Woman

- Violence at Home and Violence by the State

Ivy Nallammah Josiah has been rebelling against pressure to act like a “proper” Indian Malaysian woman locally, nationally, and internationally for more than three decades. Instrumental in founding and leading the Women’s Aid Organization (WAO), she has acted in various roles including Executive Director, President, and Fundraiser since 1982. WAO is the leading organization in Malaysia challenging domestic violence against women and promoting women’s human rights. She is currently authoring two books.

7:00 - 9:00 pm, Monday, October 24, 2016

Mudd Auditorium - CST Campus

1339 N College Ave, Claremont, CA 91711

Claremont Graduate University-School of Arts & Humanities

7:00 - 9:00 pm, Tuesday, October 25, 2016

Rose Hills Auditorium-Mount Saint Mary’s University

Doheny Campus, Downtown, Los Angeles, CA

This event is free & open to the public!

Contact: Janice Poss at janice.poss@cgu.edu or Laurie Wright Garry lgarry@msmu.edu for more information